

CONTENT

PORTFOLIOS

NINA BERMAN 6

How much security does the public need? For seven years, the US-American photographer travelled around her home country, documenting military training maneuvers and ostensibly idyllic beaches. A critical reportage.

LIES MACULAN 50

Sky scrapers and economic boom: Shanghai is the ultimate symbol of modern-day China. Lies Maculan lived there for two years and was fascinated by the people: a cheerful foray through the back alleys of Shanghai.

TECH TALK

LEICA'S NEW FLASH UNIT 18

The SF 58 unleashes its creative power on a photojournalistic assignment at Berlin's Friedrichstadtpalast.

S-SYSTEM: DESIGN INSIGHTS 24

The latest from the Leica S2's development chambers.

D-LUX 4 28

Leica's elegant compact camera – a versatile travel companion.

INSPIRING WORKSHOPS 38

John Langmore reports on encouraging seminars held by David Alan Harvey and Mary Ellen Mark.

M ACCESSORIES 45

New half case series by Artisan&Artist.

SUPER-ELMAR-M 18 MM F/3.8 ASPH 46

The architecture of Berlin's parliament district, photographed with the 35 mm format in the dead of night.

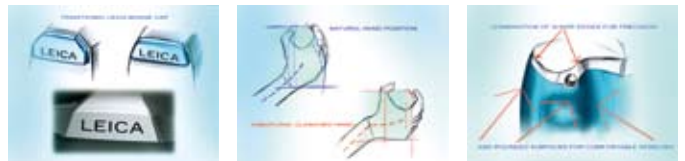

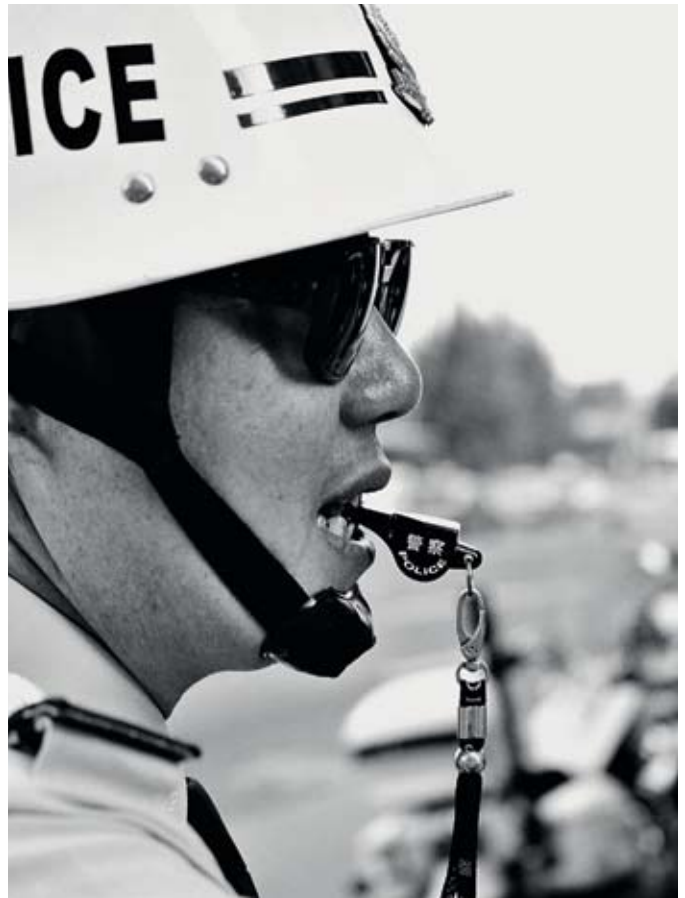

SECTIONS

EDITORIAL 4

EXHIBITIONS 16

LFI READER'S GALLERY 64

PREVIEW / IMPRINT 66

Lies Maculan: From her 'Shanghai' series (page 50)

Leica S2: Reporting from the design labs (page 24)

Nina Berman: Little patriots on 4 July, New Jersey, 2003 (page 6)

Nina Berman: Helicopter formation on 'All American Day', Fort Bragg, North Carolina, 2006